Introduction

The Djaara Cultural Competency Program (DCCP) provides an authentic and intimate reflection on 60,000 years of Dja Dja Wurrung Country and Culture and the Djaara people.

Experience an immersive, empowering, and confronting day of truth and history, which includes time on Country, the privilege of listening to repatriation of language, and the sharing of family and clan stories from our Djaara guides and teachers.

About our program

The DCCP is suitable for boards and executive leadership teams across all corporate, government, education, private business and community sector organisations.

The program delivers education and training to support organisations who wish to expand their knowledge of social responsibility and cultural awareness, increase cultural understanding to support project applications and planning, or are developing and implementing Reconciliation Action Plans.

A full day of in-person training, the program begins in the classroom as we explore the Dhelkunya Dja 'Healing Country' Plan which reaffirms our goals and obligations to care for Country. Learn about the historic Recognition and Settlement Agreement, Treaty, cultural safety and appropriateness. We explain cultural protocols, the purpose of acknowledgement, artifacts, heritage, values and traditional views. Discuss racism, pre and post-colonisation history, Djaara people and our ancestors, explore kinship, moieties and totems.

Our Djaara guides will lead participants to view and experience plants, animals and landscapes through a different lens as they guide you on Country. Immersed in nature, experience traditional ceremony and connection at a deeper level.

“Meaningful cultural journey with a long lasting impact”

Your own unique program

Each DCCP is individually curated for your organisation, and will consider the goals, needs, abilities, and existing competencies of both the organisation and of the individuals attending.

Each program will have its own unique nuances depending on the facilitator allocated, as no two programs are the same. Supporting the ongoing development of your team’s cultural fitness, participants will be empowered to participate in difficult conversations, how to engage better with Djaara, and understand how they fit historically. They will learn how to walk alongside us and to be an ally; experiencing a day of healing hearts and minds and gaining an appetite to learn more.

Team Benefits Long Term

- + Build new business relationships, partnerships and pathways
- + Understand Recognition and Reconciliation
- + Provide inclusive, safe workplaces for First Nations People
- + Grow your team’s awareness and cultural fitness
- + Understanding appropriate behavior, and new ways of working

- b) DUMAWUL reserves the right to cancel the booking or the delivery of the program at anytime prior to the booking date if Djaara guides are unavailable due to illness, Sorry Business or culturally significant dates. In the event of program cancellation by DUMAWUL the booking will be rescheduled for another mutually agreed date and payment held over.
- c) DUMAWUL reserves the right to immediately terminate a booking or expel an individual participant prior to or during a DCCP session without notice or explanation if participant conduct is deemed inappropriate, disrespectful, or discriminatory towards other participants, guides, locals, or cultural sites. In the event of termination or expulsion by DUMAWUL due to conduct, no refund is payable to the Business or an individual.
- d) DUMAWUL shall not be liable for any additional expenses incurred by the participants for any type of cancellation, termination or expulsion.
- e) Amendments to the non-refundable booking policy or approval to transfer dates for cancellations when made by the Business, are at the discretion of DUMAWUL.

Participant conduct:

- a) Participants are expected adhere to the DCCP Code of Conduct, conducting themselves in a respectful and culturally sensitive manner throughout the program.

- b) Participants must adhere to the instructions and expectations provided by DUMAWUL within the Code of Conduct, including but not limited to, safety guidelines, respect, behavior, ethics and local laws and regulations.
- c) Any behavior deemed inappropriate, disrespectful, or discriminatory towards other participants, guides, locals, or cultural sites may result in immediate termination of the session, or expulsion of an individual from the program without refund.

Liability and insurance:

- a) The Business and participants acknowledge that participation in the program, including outdoor activities and tours, carries inherent risks and agree to assume full responsibility for their safety and well-being.
- b) DUMAWUL shall not be liable for any injury, illness, loss, or damage incurred during the program.

Intellectual property:

All program materials, including presentations, handouts, and multimedia content, are protected by intellectual property rights and are solely for personal use. Participants or the Business shall not reproduce, distribute, or publicly display such materials without prior written permission from DUMAWUL.

Privacy:

Participant's personal information collected during the registration process will be used solely for program administration purposes and will be handled in accordance with applicable privacy laws and regulations.

Governing Law and Jurisdiction:

- a) These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction in which the program takes place
- b) Any disputes arising out of or in connection with these Terms and Conditions shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the competent courts in the same jurisdiction.

By making a booking, or participating in the DCCP, the Business and participants acknowledges that they have read, understood, and agreed to abide by these Terms and Conditions.
